"Hercules" Is Aerial Colossus

Built with secrecy rivaling the Manhattan atom-bomb project, this 450,000-pound aerial colossus nears completion at Los Angeles, where its designer, Howard Hughes, expects to fly it in tests this summer. This exclusive view shows tremendous wing-spread in the $20,000,000 "Hercules," which is capable of carrying 750 fully equipped troops non-stop from New York to Alaska.

"Sonny" Wisecarver Is Newly-Married Again

DENVER, March 26.—(INS)—Ellsworth "Sonny" Wisecarver, 17, who gained a reputation for eloping with married women during the war, today was newly-married again—this time to a 17-year-old theater usherette.

Justice of the Peace George F. Whitehead, an elder in the Mormon church, married Sonny and Betty Zoe Reber of Las Vegas, Nev., in a ceremony at St. George, Utah.

The couple reside in Las Vegas, but could not be married there because a state law prohibits marriage of persons under 18.

The brides mother, Mrs. Glenn Reber, accompanied the pair.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Let's see, this is the sixth day of spring, is it not? Yes, but only by the calendar.

There were a lot of householders in the city, and county also, today who were hoping that the sun came out strong during the day, in order to eliminate a lot of snowdrifts around their property, especially those blocking drives.

Some motor cars went off the highways last night and landed in drifts. However, after considerable maneuvering they got going again. For the most part people were content to keep their cars garaged.

Street department employees were on the job all day yesterday and last night ashing streets. In some instances, snow covered the ashes almost as quickly as they were placed but thanks to their good work, skidding was held to a minimum.

Having a windshield wiper on the rear window as well as on the front of an automobile surely must be helpful, especially in this kind of weather. One of Pa Newc's family noticed such a car on North Mercer street Tuesday.

An investigation at the post office yesterday revealed what made it impossible to open the slot in the big mail box in front of the office to take care of mailers who visit the place after the office closes at mid-day. (Continued on Page Two)

Big Four Parley Optimism Given Another Setback

Russia Uncompromising On Question Of German Assets In Austria

SOVIET CLAIMS GERMAN PROPERTY (BULLETIN)

MOSCOW, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Big Four conferees ran into new difficulties today when the Russians maintained an uncompromising stand on the question of German assets in Austria.

Optimism which developed yesterday when the Soviets compromised on six points of the proposed Austrian settlement dissipated quickly.

The controversy revolves around Soviet claims to German properties in their zone of occupation which they demand as reparations. Austria's contention is that much of the property is rightly that of the Vienna government, having been seized previously by the Nazis.

New Difficulty
The new difficulty developed with the expected arrival in Moscow of Austrian Foreign Minister Karl Gruber and other Austrian officials who are to present their views on ultimate contents of the Allied treaty with Austria.

The deadlock among deputies for Austria on the problem of German assets in Austria hardened as a result of Russian refusal to accept an American proposal for a four-power discussion of the title of ownership.

The Americans want search of title to properties already taken over by Allied occupational authorities.

The Russians maintain that under the Allied control council ruling other powers have no right to question the transfer of ownership to Russia of purported German assets seized in the eastern zone of Austria.

To Exchange Information
It was learned meanwhile that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov has accepted a proposal by Secretary of State George C. Marshall for an exchange of information between the Big Three on how provisions of the Moscow declaration on China have been carried out.

The exchange is to be completed before April 1 as a compromise to (Continued on Page Two)

Roads In County Sheeted, Drifted

All Main Highways Open But Rural Roads Blocked By Worst Drifts Thus Far

Worst snowdrifts of the season today made rural routes in the county impassable, but main highways were reported open but treacherous by Alfred Martin, superintendent of highways.

Sight distance on all the roads was reported poor, with icy over-layers making traveling hazardous, and motorists were warned to venture out only when necessary and to exercise extreme caution to prevent accidents.

Mr. Martin said that due to the debris scattered by the high winds and the giant drifts, it will be impossible for snowplows to attempt freeing back roads until sometime tomorrow. He asked rural residents to be patient as the workmen face a herculean job and must progress slowly due to the constant drifting.

Ashing crews worked all through the night in the city and on outlying highways. All roads became glassy during the late hours when the thermometer plummeted.

Family Death Toll In St. Marys Fire Sunday Now Five

ST. MARYS, Pa., Mar. 26.—(INS)—The family death toll of a pre-dawn fire in a farmhouse near St. Marys today stood at five, following the death of Andres Meyer, 36; his daughter, Marjorie, eight, and his son, Laverne, 14.

Meyer's wife and two-year-old daughter, Dorothy, died in the blaze Sunday morning. Two other children, Sandra, 18 months, and Geraldine, 13, still were hospitalized with burns.

Three other children escaped the fire which, police believed, was started when a member of the family tossed kerosene onto the kitchen fire.

Further Tax Relief Is Knutson's Promise

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., today promised "further tax relief" in the future by a Republican Congress as the House opened debate on his bill reducing taxes this year 10 to 30 per cent.

The bill's author defended the measure against Democratic charges that its major benefits went to taxpayers in the highest-income brackets. He told the House that the decision to increase the tax cut for the lowest income group from 20 to 30 per cent "adequately meets any valid criticism from that angle."

Knutson, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, maintained that the tax cut will aid the "little people," spur business to engage in new financial ventures; increase the incentives to young people; assist elderly people with fixed incomes; remove "punitive" taxes from the wealthy, and help bring a "solvent and prosperous America."

He promised that the three billion 840 million dollar tax cut provided in his bill was just a promise of things to come.

Knutson told the House: "This bill is fair, but it is only a start in the right direction. As we clear away the deadwood in the executive branch and restore efficiency (Continued on Page Two)

Cleveland Digs Out From Worst Storm Of Years

Eight-Inch Snowfall And Blizzard Cause Havoc In Ohio City

TWO PERSONS DEAD; MUCH DAMAGE DONE

CLEVELAND, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Cleveland was digging out today from its worst blizzard in years, which left two persons dead, 16 others injured and thousands of dollars of property damage.

The eight-inch snowfall, whipped by hurricane-like winds ranging up to 65 miles an hour in velocity, set a record for the winter.

Most of the snow was expected to be melted by rising temperatures this afternoon, after a drop into the 20s during the night, but other storm effects were longer lasting.

Transportation In Confusion
Streets still were coated with ice, throwing transportation into confusion. Only junior and senior public high schools in Cleveland were to conduct classes while all Catholic schools remained closed for the day.

During the storm, approximately 30,000 homes were left without electricity for varying periods and many persons who could not reach their homes were forced to stay in hotels. Some industrial use of electricity also was curbed.

The first victim of the storm was Paul Widowski, 49, who was killed when a tree blew across the car in which he was riding. Two others in the automobile, including the driver, escaped with minor injuries.

Harry E. Saur, 63, the second victim, collapsed while he was shoveling snow and died a few minutes later.

Erie District Has Heavy Snow

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Snowfalls ranging from one to 11 inches were reported by the State Highways department.

The department said from three to 11 inches of snow fell in the northwestern section during the night making the accumulated depth in some areas 15 inches.

Worst driving conditions, the department added, were in the north, central and western areas. High winds caused drifts on many highways and the closing of some secondary routes.

Main highways closed were U. S. Route Six in Crawford county west of Linesville, U. S. Route 322 in Crawford county near Conneaut Lake, State Route 18 in Mercer county from Hermitage to Greenville.

State Route 18 also was closed from Greenville to the Crawford county line and from Greenville to Sandy Lake.

Car Shortage May Be Relieved Soon, Railroad Man Says

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 26.—(INS)—District Manager J. F. Dusenberry of the Association of American Railroads, today said some alleviation of the car shortage can be expected soon as a result of new rulings by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Under the new rulings Dusenberry said, permits will be granted to load certain empty cars passing through Western Pennsylvania and ticketed for return to the Midwest.

Normally the flow of empty box cars is from west to east—mostly grain moving to ports. To maintain this flow railroads must haul thousands of empty cars with as little delay as possible.

Charged With Hatchet Murder

Leaving a Detroit court, Louis V. Thompson (foreground), wealthy automobile dealer, and his second wife, have been served murder warrants in connection with the sadistic 1945 slaying of his first wife, Mrs. Lydia Thompson. The warrants, signed by Grand Juror Judge George B. Murphy, charge the couple with the murder and a 10-month conspiracy to kill.

Report 210 Dead In German Flood

BERLIN, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Officials reported today that at least 210 persons have died in floods resulting from overflow of the Oder river in the Soviet zone of occupation east of Berlin.

A dike near Kuerstern broke and inundated an area of 450 square miles. Tens of thousands were made homeless.

Some eight thousand other persons were cut off by the flood waters. These were said to have food reserves which can last them three weeks, but difficulties arose in the problem of supplying them with drinking water.

Swift Action On Aid Program Is Asked By Truman

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—(INS)—President Truman today urged swift congressional action on his Greek-Turkish aid program, declaring he had asked for it in the hope that such assistance would contribute to world peace.

The chief executive said at his news conference that he hoped Congress would speedily grant the 400 million dollars he requested, instead of a stop-gap loan.

Mr. Truman said that his message to Congress outlining the Middle East Crisis spoke for itself.

To Present Views
He added that his views on the tense situation would be presented to the United Nations Security Council Friday by Warren Austin, United States delegate to the UN. (Continued on Page Two)

Rescue Workers Fear 114 Trapped In Mine Are Dead

Explosion In Coal Mine Near Centralia, Ill., Takes Heavy Toll Of Life

BLAST TOOK PLACE TUESDAY AFTERNOON (BULLETIN)

CENTRALIA, Ill., Mar. 26.—(INS)—In a desperate, last minute effort to improve ventilation, weary rescue workers today began sealing on the side entrances of Bell and Zollner Co. coal mine, where 114 men were trapped by an explosion.

Known dead in the disaster number 22.
Company Superintendent Walter Johnson said the sealing operation would be carried out as rapidly as possible in the hope that it would prolong the lives of the trapped still alive.

CENTRALIA, Ill., Mar. 26.—(INS)—Rescue workers expressed belief today that few, if any, of 114 men trapped by an explosion in a Bell and Zollner Co., coal mine at Wamac, near Centralia, will be found alive.

One rescue worker, William Nolte, who penetrated two miles from the main shaft said he saw at least 22 bodies.

This would leave 92 still unaccounted for in the recesses of the four-mile-long mine.

Nolte said there was no evidence of any fire but declared the men apparently died of deadly gas fumes when the blast ripped through No. 5 mine at 3:30 p. m. yesterday.

Nolte's estimate raised to 23 the death toll in Illinois' worst coal mine explosion in 22 years.

The exact figure of the number of men still in the mine was given by J. C. Hays, chief clerk of the mining company.

29 Come Out Alive
Hays said 143 entered the mine yesterday and only 29 had come out alive.

Rescued Miner Tells Of Blast

Relates Experience In Illinois Mine When Explosion Occurred Tuesday Afternoon

(Editor's Note: John T. Pick, 29-year-old Centralia, Ill., miner, was one of the first to leave the explosion-torn Centralia Coal company No. 5 mine at Wamac, Ill. He suffered exposure and shock, and was given first-aid treatment at an emergency shelter set up in Centralia. He gave the following account of the tragedy from a cot.)

By JOHN T. PICK
As Told to International News Service

CENTRALIA, Ill., Mar. 26.—It was near quitting time. My loading crew was just getting ready to go to the top when there was a sudden loud noise.

It was about 3:30 p. m. and I knew right away that there had been an explosion. Some of us were momentarily knocked out.

When I came to there was a lot of dirt and dust flying around. The (Continued on Page Two)

The city kids sighed as they heard the news, "no school in the country places" on account of the snow; the school is off, out in the great open spaces. And they listened intently to try and hear the same news for here in the city, but the word never came and the schools came on. Sighed the youngsters, "oh what a pity". But the country roads are a mass of white and the drifts mean that school is done till the plows get through and the roads are cleared—the weather is thirty-one.

County Is High In Bond Sales

Over $400,000 In Savings Bonds Sold In County During Past Month

Lawrence county continues to do an outstanding job in the sale of U. S. Savings Bonds, according to information received by A. R. Helzmann, county chairman of U. S. Savings Bonds sales.

To the month of February a total of $403,555.50 in savings bonds was sold in the county, of which $301,337.50 was in E Bonds. Both totals ranked exceptionally high with reference to neighboring counties and other counties in the state of the same size. For the state as a whole, savings bonds sales for February amounted to almost $50,000,000 and in the nation $712,199,000, or over $90,000,000 more than last February.

Redemptions of E Bonds nationally were 41 per cent less in February than in 1946.

FURTHER TAX RELIEF IS KNUTSON'S PROMISE

in government there will be further tax relief. We are beginning to reverse a trend that has been snow-balling for 14 years."

Six Hours Debate

Operating with a unanimity that has not been equalled since the early days of the New Deal, House Republicans allotted six hours of debate on the bill preparatory to passing the measure tomorrow by an overwhelming majority.

Democratic leaders, supporting an administration policy that tax cuts should be postponed, conceded defeat in advance. It appeared certain that there would be defections from Democratic ranks on the final vote, while it was problematical whether more than one Republican, Rep. Engel of Mich., would oppose it.

The bill, sponsored by Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., chairman of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, reduces personal income taxes by three billion $40 million dollars a year. The tax cut ranges from 30 percent in the lowest income brackets to 10 percent in the highest ranks.

The bill was taken up under a "closed" or "gag" rule, the normal procedure in the House on tax measures, which will permit no revision of the bill other than to correct typographical errors. The Democrats will be permitted, however, to offer a motion to return the measure to committee just before the final vote. Such action was foredoomed to failure.

DUST TAKES FIRE

Firemen were called to the home of C. R. Brenner of 1617 Huron avenue at 3:10 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by an alarm from Box 414, where it was found that dust which had gathered on top of the furnace became ignited. No damage resulted and no action was required of firemen.

RESCUE WORKERS FEAR 114 TRAPPED IN MINE ARE DEAD

died a few minutes after he was brought to the surface yesterday afternoon.

Eleven of the survivors were hospitalized.

At last midnight, more than eight hours after an explosion billowed deadly gas through the subterranean passages, little hope was held out for the men still trapped in the mine.

Oxygen-equipped state and federal rescue crews fought desperately to reach miners cut off by a cave-in near the main shaft.

Company officials said ventilation was re-established in the mine late last night so that fresh air could be pumped to entombed men who might still be alive.

Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois promised "every resource of the state" for rescue efforts and planned to fly to the scene to supervise operations designed to aid the trapped men.

Counted 21 Bodies

State Mine Inspector Driscoll Scanlon emerged from the shaft late last night and reported that he had counted 21 bodies in an area about half a mile inside the single-level, 39-year-old mine.

First masked rescue workers to enter the mine after the explosion reported the tunnels filled with deadly coal gas, or "black damp."

They said they were able to proceed only 2,000 feet along the mine's north tunnel. Most of the missing men are thought to have been working at the tunnel's end, nearly four miles away.

Officials said no bodies will be brought to the surface until rescue teams have given up hope of finding any of the miners alive.

State police set up barriers outside the mine and warned onlookers that mine experts stated there was "extreme danger" of another explosion.

Robert Weir of the Illinois department of mines and minerals made one of the first trips into the mine with a rescue crew. Weir was pessimistic about chances of rescuing the trapped men alive.

He said: "It looks bad. It doesn't look as if there will be many of them left."

Large Chicken Coop Damaged By Storm

Heavy Winds Cause Hundred-Foot Coop At Russell Home To Collapse Monday

In addition to other damage reported by the storm Monday night, the large chicken coop on the property of James K. Russell of West Washington street extension was severely damaged.

The wind blew over the structure which was 20 by 100 feet in area, causing it to collapse. While most of the lumber can be reclaimed, the damage will amount to several hundred dollars. Mr. Russell also had 25 chickens killed in the destruction of the building.

BIG FOUR PARLEY OPTIMISM GIVEN ANOTHER SETBACK

Molotov's original demands that a formal Big Three parley on China be held in Moscow concurrently with the Big Four meetings.

Molotov did not say in his reply to Marshall that he would consider the mere exchange of information as entirely satisfactory and a final settlement of the question.

He wrote that he had "no objection" to Marshall's offer and would agree to sending copies of information exchanged to the Chinese government. He added, however, that this way of communicating information "does not seem" to be "entirely satisfactory."

Britain's Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, conferred before noon with Marshall in another behind-the-scenes parley which may have considerable bearing on the fate of the conference.

A new major struggle between Russia and the United States was foreseen over Marshall's proposal that a general conference be held on the peace treaty with Germany.

High ranking delegates predicted that the conference probably will end about April 15.

night. Someone had attempted to mail a package too large for the package compartment and it was wedged in behind the door. Letters could be taken care of in the door for letters, but the package slot was clogged shut.

While conditions, arising out of the heavy fall of snow were bad enough, it was a good thing that a lot of the snow which fell at the start of the storm, melted. According to the U. S. Weather Observing Station, there was a fall of nine inches since 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, and quite a little fell before that time.

Pupils in many of the county schools got a half holiday Tuesday, being sent home at noon because of condition of the roads which were drifting badly and it was feared that the buses could not get through later in the day. Some of the schools did not have sessions today because of road conditions.

Drifts experienced this morning along roads and even in the city were about as bad as any that developed during the entire winter. Snowplows were kept at work during the entire winter. Snowplows were kept at work during the night and main highways were mostly open for travel this morning, but many side roads were still partially, if not entirely blocked.

Someone's little black and white cocker spaniel evidently wandered away from home this morning and discovered he was lost when he got to the Diamond. He was wandering around disconsolately, causing many a motorist to stop abruptly to avoid hitting him, a feat which was rather difficult because of the icy condition of the streets.

Breathing Spell For Linemen

Following 20 hours consecutive labor to put service in every home and business which uses electricity, employees of the line department of the Pennsylvania Power company breathed more easily today.

The wind and snowstorm of Tuesday, which started at midnight Monday, caused nine primary wires to burn out and service was out for several hours in Leesburg.

The trouble resulted when lines struck each other or trees were blown down upon lines.

Temporary repairs were made to afford service and from now on permanent repairs will be in order.

I'm afraid for the trapped men. If the gas got to them, they won't have a chance. I'm afraid that a lot of them are gone.

My own father, John E. Pick, was among those trapped. I don't know if he got out alive. I'm praying to God that he did. As far as I know, pop is still down there.

My pop is 54 years old, and he's a good miner. I'm praying for the best for my pop and all the other men who are down in that trap.

Soldiers Sent To Mine Disaster

WAMAC, Ill., Mar. 26.—(INS)—A detachment of soldiers from Scott Field, Ill., was on duty today in the mine disaster town of Wamac.

The troops aided Illinois highway patrolmen in maintaining order among the crowd that waited for news of the miners still trapped by an underground explosion in the Centralia Coal Co. mine No. 5.

Army medical corpsmen also were on duty at the community center in nearby Centralia and administered first aid to the five miners who escaped alive.

None of the survivors, however, was in a serious condition. They suffered from exposure and shock.

SWIFT ACTION ON AID PROGRAM IS ASKED BY TRUMAN

The President indicated that Austin's speech to the Security Council may contain hitherto undisclosed aspects of the "black communism" program.

Mr. Truman, who conferred with Austin yesterday, scheduled separate conferences this afternoon with Lincoln MacVeagh, U. S. ambassador to Greece, and Edwin Wilson, ambassador to Turkey.

The two diplomats were summoned to Washington after the President's enunciation of the "Truman doctrine" built around the proposal to aid Greece and Turkey.

O'DONNELL-SHULER VOWS EXCHANGED

Marriage vows were exchanged in the Cove-Weirton Methodist church, Hollidays Cove, W. Va., between Miss Thais Frances O'Donnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas William O'Donnell, of Hollidays Cove, and John Wesley Shuler, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shuler, 1313 West Washington street, March 21 at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Rev. A. R. Mansberger, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with ferns in the presence of relatives and a few close friends.

Mrs. Anna Curry played "Because" and "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony and during the exchange of vows the "Lord's Prayer".

More Parking Space

One of the needs in New Castle that becomes more and more apparent with each passing week is the need for parking space in the downtown area. Parking space on any night in the week is difficult to get, but on Monday night after seven o'clock it is a major achievement to find a spot to park the family bus.

It is an easy matter to point out deficiencies, of course, but sometimes an entirely different matter to suggest an intelligent remedy. One man suggests that more people use busses on busy nights to come down town and leave parking space for those who come from outlying districts.

Another would have more parking lots provided which would aid but which might be difficult of achievement in the business district. There are some spots on the outskirts of the business district which could be made into profitable spots for the owners if they were converted into parking lots.

It would necessitate walking a few blocks into the shopping district but it seems to us that the day is past in New Castle when you can drive downtown at any time of the day or evening and expect to find a spot for your car half a block from the store or theatre you intend to patronize.

There are just so many parking spaces on the streets and just so many parking places in parking lots in the business district. When they are filled there are no more.

The problem is one that affects the merchants, for most of the parking, especially on Monday nights, represents customers who want to spend their money.

Moscow Headaches

Despite indications that Secretary Marshall's firm, dispassionate attitude at Moscow has improved hopes for agreement, the Foreign Minister's Conference still faces plenty of headaches.

Russian opposition must be overcome to the proposals of Bevin and Marshall for a "states-rights" Germany with a weak central government. The probable effect of such a plan would be to make it impossible for either the Russians or the Anglo-Americans to win the support of all Germany in case of a clash between them. And that, in turn, would lessen the danger that the Reich would again be made strong in the interest of power politics. But Russia evidently has hopes of getting control of a strong central government such as she advocates.

The French are making out a good case for their getting larger exports of German coal, but they are hurting the prospects of agreement by declaring that they will not permit any other question to be settled until the coal is promised them. These filibuster-like tactics, with which France repeatedly wrecked conferences between 1918 and 1939, are dangerous in an atomic age.

The important question of an Austrian treaty is also complicated by the attitude of the Soviet Union. Russia wants all the reparations she can get, regardless of the effect on other problems.

Unless these problems are settled, Europe will remain in chaos for years to come. The foreign ministers still have a long way to go.

Ramparts We Watch

The Philippine Republic, proud of its independence, still chooses to remain a part of "the ramparts we watch." The signing of a five-year military assistance agreement with the United States complements a recent agreement granting American Army and Navy bases in the islands.

In the words of President Roxas, "this grant of both materiel and training of personnel from the United States armed forces is a boon without price." And from Paul V. McNutt, United States Ambassador: "It completes the framework of intimate cooperation between our two countries and establishes a pattern unprecedented in history."

Signing of these treaties crowns the difficult postwar task to which Ambassador McNutt was assigned. He returns to the United States with the good will and good wishes of the Filipinos.

United States defensive military and naval cooperation with the Philippines is no more of imperialism and no more of provocation to the peace than is a similar arrangement with Canada.

Home Gardens

The United States this year will see a revival of interest in home gardening equal to that during war years when production of food was a prime necessity. Continued high cost of most foods is responsible for the expected increase in home production. Because of such activities during past years, which were crowned with amazing success, many householders find both needed exercise and enjoyment in caring for a plot in the backyard, or in the vacant lot next door.

It is predicted there will be 20,000,000 home gardens throughout the nation, approximately the number during the war years. Seed sales are increasing rapidly throughout the country.

Andrew J. Wing, director of the National Garden Institute, says his office is deluged with calls for booklets on planting and also on home canning. If Europeans adopted some of the resourcefulness of Americans in providing for their food needs, there would be fewer calls for American relief, with the result that it would be possible to make more than a token cut in income taxes.

Wheat crop in the Southwest is expected to take on new life and growth, having just had a liberal dose of Vitamin R.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Banning Communist Party False Logic

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—The move to outlaw the Communist party in this country is gaining strength in the House. It goes along with a wave of fear and reaction that seems to border on hysteria.

There are those who make a logical case for outlawing the Communists. Members of the party, they say, owe their loyalty not to the United States but to Soviet Russia. Therefore they are constantly undermining the U. S. position and in some instances they are led into downright treasonable acts.

The logical step, then, is to make the party illegal so that all who belong to it will be subject to legal punishment.

That the loyalties of a Communist are divided or perverted, no one can dispute. The Communist owes allegiance to an ideology that is absolute, and that absolutism sets the Communist against the society in which he lives.

But to argue that therefore the Communist party should be outlawed is a dangerous exercise in false logic. If the objective is to prevent disloyalty and help to insure the security of the United States, outlawing the party will have exactly the opposite effect.

Drive Members Underground
It will drive present party members underground or they will seek a disguise that is likely to make them move nearly a third of the way they are now, when they are labeled as a bottle on the medicine shelf that says "poison." No one who can read can be fooled by the contents of that bottle.

Take the experience of our neighbor, Canada, as an example. On May 15, 1940, as a war security measure, Canada outlawed the Communist party. A number of Communists were interned, including Tim Buck, head of the party.

Many other active members went underground, a subsequent investigation showed. Several of the leaders took refuge in the United States to evade Canadian draft and other laws. They returned to Canada only after the German attack on Russia, which immediately made the war for them a holy war.

In December of 1942, a charter was issued to the Labor Progressive party. After a national convention in August of the following year, the party put out a lengthy manifesto appealing to farmers, workers and the middle class. Among the signers was Tim Buck, who was still interned.

Another Label
To the politically knowing, it was obvious that Labor Progressive was merely another label for Communist. But the new label may have deceived some.

At the general election on June 11, 1945, Fred Rose was reelected to Parliament as a Labor Progressive. The Communist party as a party had never succeeded, in the 20 years of its existence, in electing a Communist.

When the Soviet spy scare broke Rose was one of those arrested. He was tried, convicted of espionage, and sentenced to six years in prison. The evidence showed that Rose, 40 years old, had been serving the Soviet Union since he was 17 years old, although he had become a naturalized citizen of Canada in 1926.

The Labor Progressive label did not change Rose's loyalties. It did not change the nature of the Communist party. The new label offered a false lure to those who wanted to be deceived.

Here, it seems to me, is a clear example of the futility of outlawing the Communist party. Conservatives in Canada agitated to have the Labor Progressive party outlawed also. But obviously it was impossible to ban all dissident parties.

In Russia under the czar, every effort was made to suppress dissident and revolutionary parties. The Otkranta, the czarist secret police, extended into every cranny of Russian life and had agents throughout the world as well. Yet the net result was to increase revolutionary activity. The revolution which was put down in 1905 succeeded in 1917.

Under suppression, disloyalty and intrigue are bound to grow. We above all should have learned that in this great free country. If our democracy is strong, if it produces the rewards and satisfactions that all people seek, then the tiny minority of Communists can be checked by existing laws. To wave the bogey of Communism is to confess a fear that seems abnormal and unnatural in a rich, strong country.

WASHINGTON—William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to Moscow: "The Communist party of the United States is composed essentially of traitors. If the United States were to go to war with the Soviet Union, members of the party would do all they could to help the Soviet Union."

PHILADELPHIA—William Benton, assistant secretary of state: "Our basic aim was, and is now, to establish a lasting peace based on justice and mutual understanding among free peoples. We must never lose sight of this aim. We must be prepared to spend real money on it."

WASHINGTON—Dean Acheson, acting secretary of state says no troops will be sent to Greece or Turkey. "We have not been asked to do so. We do not foresee any need to do so. And we do not intend to do so."

One Man's Opinion

Secretary Acheson says our aid to Greece and Turkey should bring peace rather than war . . . or to revive a faintly remembered slogan "all aid short of war."

Anyhow no one can complain these are dull days what with fighting Communism in Greece, Fascism and Spain and capitalism at home.

But it is pleasurable to report that the treasury has just lifted its claw out of the taxpayers' pocket in one small respect . . . television.

The treasury has decided that television in a bar room is not entertainment for tax purposes . . . There are those who feel that television currently is not entertainment period.

In some respects it's a little like the secret of the atom . . . We have it but we're darned if we know what to do with it.

And I speak as one who has tried under the lights . . . I lost enough salt to fill all the shakers in Childs.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

An eighteen-year-old Long Island youth had his sixteen-year-old sweetheart arrested because her constant presence in the store where he worked jeopardized his job.

The two had known each other for a long while, and when they were in school they were together most of the day.

However, a boy became a man, particularly when he is eighteen must begin to make a living. So Andrew (that is this particular young fellow's name) got himself a job as a clerk in a neighborhood grocery store.

Dolores, his sweetheart, however, could not stand the separation and, according to the charge, hung around in the store and was always pestering me while I was at work.

Eventually, he told the judge, things became so bad that he had his choice of either getting rid of Dolores or getting fired.

She wouldn't stay out and he didn't want to get fired, so he had her arrested.

The judge asked Andrew whether he was still in love with Dolores.

Andrew wasn't quite sure, but he was darn sure that he loved his job and that he wanted to be manager of the place some day.

Dolores, on the other hand, insisted that love come first and that she had a perfect right to be in the store and to look at Andrew as much as she wanted, particularly since her family were customers, and a store is a public place.

The judge, holding back a smile, told her sternly that love is wonderful but that making a living is more important.

He informed her that love and business can exist together but that they must not be scrambled together, that a man's place of business is not the place for demonstrations of love.

Dolores listened attentively but doubtfully.

However, she promised to stay away from Andrew's store and not to force her attentions on him unless Andrew himself showed signs of craving her attention.

Whereupon the case was dismissed.

The main reason I am telling you this story is that spring is once again approaching, and with spring, love will once again be in full bloom.

If you are young and love comes upon you suddenly do not look to poets or the movies for advice and definitions.

Fall in love, by all means, but remember what Lord Byron said: "Man's love is of man's life a thing."

"This woman's whole existence."

And, no matter whether 'tis just a thing apart or your whole existence—thank God for love!

State Police Say:

Traffic signals are installed not only to control vehicles, but to regulate pedestrian movements. Accident reports indicate that it is almost four times as dangerous to cross an intersection against a signal than in obedience to it. When a walker attempts to move against a red light, he is taking an unnecessary chance, as the approaching motorist expects to find his path clear. When he crosses on a green light, he must also look out for vehicles making turns.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Four out of Five.

We the citizens of the United States should make sure that we are not caught . . . Does that raise a question in your mind? It should. What is meant by caught? Just this.

When World War Number One came along . . . the United States was not ready to put an army, navy or marine unit into battle. When World War Number Two broke . . . again we were not ready. Sure, we did dig in and after a short time made the grade. But while we were digging in and getting men and material ready . . . many lives were lost. Now we are not advocating that we maintain munition factories in large numbers and we are not advocating that we send all men to the army . . . but we do think that our military machine should be kept in number one order.

The National Guard unit is one way that we can keep the right foot forward. Here in New Castle we have an opportunity to do our bit . . . but are the men accepting the responsibility? Some are, yes . . . but not enough.

We are for military training in the younger group . . . boys 18 and 19 . . . and the way the government would like to set up the national training program is very interesting. One year of military training . . . six months of basic training . . . and six months of schooling.

On the other hand . . . National Guard units meet but twice a week . . . and for a two week period during the summer. No one donates his time . . . each hour spent in drill (and it definitely is not marching) is paid for. Men who sign up now with the National Guard have an opportunity to make good . . . ratings are open for the person who wants to learn.

There is no fun fooling yourself . . . and when you close your eyes to reality . . . you are fooling no one but yourself. We don't want you to consider this scare talk . . . not for one moment . . . but unless we as individual citizens stay wide awake . . . we have a good chance of being again caught.

Great Game Of Politics

Seek To Sidetrack "Liberal" Label

WASHINGTON, March 26. POSSIBLY it does not mean much, but it is interesting to note that the more polished and thoughtful of the left-wing politicians and publicists are evincing a desire to get rid of the word "liberal". Instead, they have begun to refer to themselves and their associates as "modernists" or "progressives".

PROBABLY these designations will not push "liberal" wholly into the discard but they do appear frequently these days in the publicity output of former New Dealers who so painfully cling to the repudiated politics of the late Mr. Roosevelt. One reason is that the word "liberal" has really been worn ragged. Another is that the extent to which the Communists have made it their own makes a good many who have been calling themselves "liberals" pretty sick.

IT is worth noting that neither of the factions into which the "liberal" forces most recently have split have seen fit to use the word in the name it has selected for its organization. One calls itself the Progressive Citizens of America, or the PCA; the other is known as the Americans for Democratic Action, or the ADA. Both are sonorous and high sounding but they only accentuate the absurdity of the division. In politics, majorities frequently, and in the course of time, inevitably, split. That is natural. But from the practical political point of view, when minorities split, it does not make any sense at all. What that amounts to is deliberately diminishing a less than fifty per cent chance to win. That is why when the radical groups which, though in power during the Roosevelt regime, never have been a majority in the country, chose to divide into two more or less hostile camps a few months after the country had elected a conservative Republican Congress and the odds concededly favor the election of a conservative Republican President in 1948, it seemed generally ridiculous.

THIS has since been accentuated by the new attitude of the CIO, in which organization the radicals of every shade from the parlor pink to the out-and-out Communists for years have found a happy home. When the PCA and the ADA were first launched on the political seas, each had high CIO officials on board. The unctuous Mr. Phillip Murray showed up as a vice president of the PCA which does not bar Communists from membership, while the Messrs. John Green and Walter Reuther were announced as committee members of the ADA. In other words, the CIO divided its patronage, played no favorite.

BUT now, with typical timidity, Mr. Murray has changed his strategy. Withdrawing from the PCA of Mr. Henry Wallace, he has recommended that other CIO officials withdraw from the ADA. This recommendation has been followed, but not wholeheartedly. The issue is still regarded as unsettled. Naturally, the withdrawals have displeased both ADA and PCA, whose leaders tend to regard Mr. Murray as a muddy-minded man who does not know what he wants to do. The truth is that he is terribly embarrassed.

The World and the Mud Puddles

GOOD BYE O.P.A.

Doom of the OPA and its sponsor, the Office of Temporary Controls, comes the "hard way"—by decision of the Senate to supply funds for operation only to June 30th. Confirmation of the Lower House thus will end an agency which perhaps has been the subject of the most bitter controversy in our modern history.

While there will be vociferous objections to the removal of Federal rent controls, continuance of these controls to June 30th will give States and municipalities ample time to enact their own control legislation. Such local controls are more practical and are practically certain to be more equitable than blanket, over-all federal control, as rentals are essentially a local problem.

Bureaucracy at its worst has been exemplified in the OPA during the many years of its unbridled reign. Not only has this agency been above the Congress and in effect above the law; its administration under such chiefs as Chester Bowles and Paul Porter, has been arrogant and dictatorial. In addition, OPA has been the most prolific propaganda agency ever known to American government, harping on self-created "emergencies," preaching the philosophy of fear and assuming morose intelligence on the part of the mass of American citizens.

Most Americans will approve the Senate's determination that OPA shall RIP. But will the control by the States be better than the situation? Will it not simply change one bureaucracy for another?

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

THE EATING-PROBLEM CHILD

Some parents find that by holding back dessert till the youngster has finished eating what he is supposed to eat works very well. Many parents don't get such good results. Either the youngster wins out and gets his dessert eventually without having fulfilled requirements or is so worked up as not to want it at all. If it does not work well without constant halting, whining and other show of vexation the plan had better be abandoned.

For the average child who is an eating problem, dessert is too remote to pull well. A better plan is to work on each single hurdle. Let the young child's meal end the moment he refuses the food before him, provided it is a single food and there is but a very small portion of it. Not for style but for efficiency in cultivating a good appetite in the youngster, serve his food in courses, one food at a time. Don't feed him. Let him feed himself with a spoon or his bare hands, whichever he prefers.

A Small Portion

Barring at first one or two foods which always have evoked strong resistance in him, place before him first of all a very small portion of the most essential food, nothing more. Make the portion no bigger than a lima bean. After he has eaten it don't give him a second even though he begs for it, but a very small portion of the next most essential food. I'm talking about the eating-problem child from about 15 months to five or six years of age.

His failure to eat the offered single food, without a word or gesture or any inward stirrings from you should be your signal to end his meal. Then make sure he can have no other food except fruit juice till his next regular mealtime. Unless it is the evening meal don't even give him milk, though he may beg for it. You want to get him good and hungry.

In case he holds out for more than two or three meals or becomes nauseated, call your doctor. Perhaps the chances are not more than one in a thousand that he will hold out so long. Nor can I guess what the chances are that you would not surrender in the meanwhile. I discuss this problem at length in my bulletin "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Correction" to be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

CATALOGUE GARDENS

Outside the wind is rough and cold, But all is warm within; And blooming are the marigold The postman passes in. The giant zinnias' massive heads In color are a-glint, And all the roses in their beds Are beautiful in print.

In catalogues no beetles crawl, The tender buds to chew. The hollyhocks along the wall Are perfect, size and hue. There come no hordes of deadly foes The gardeners to enrage.

The work of cutworms never shows Upon the printed page. Oh beautiful the garden space Which seedmen all supply, Where never harm has taken place And never favorites die. And as beside the fire I dream, The wish comes off to me: The garden of my life could seem At last, so fair to see.

Health Talks

BLOOD

Good blood is necessary for good health. The proper place for blood is inside the body in the blood vessels.

Whenever there is bleeding where it should not be, there is probably something wrong.

There is real danger when coughing brings up some blood. There should be an examination right away.

Sometimes small cuts bleed a good bit. Perhaps the best way to stop the bleeding is to press down firmly on the cut. A pad of clean cloth may be laid on the cut and held down hard enough to stop the bleeding.

The pressure should be kept on for quite a while to prevent the bleeding from starting up again.

Hints On Etiquette

Godparents for a baby usually are chosen from among the parents' most intimate friends. Relatives can be god parents also but usually are not asked to act in this capacity as the idea is to add to the child's group of adult friends in case he should lose his parents.

Warn Japanese About Electing Reds To Offices

MacArthur's Headquarters Indirectly Admonishes Japs On April 4 Elections

TOKYO, March 26.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's occupation headquarters indirectly warned the Japanese people today against voting Communists into public office in the coming April 4 general election.

The admonition was issued by Lt. Col. P. K. Roest, political affairs chief in the government section of supreme Allied headquarters in Japan.

He told Japanese newsmen the Japanese people must use their franchise "to choose as representatives those who will uphold democracy and fight everything which would lead Japan back to the bondage of a dictatorship, whether of the Zaibatsu (family combines), the military clique or the proletariat."

Roest made his remarks at the regular news conference which serves as an important link between the occupation authorities and the Japanese people.

He declared that those who believe in democracy oppose "rigged elections like the one recently held in Poland."

"It is this anti-democratic, purely political, ruthlessly aggressive Communism that America will fight anywhere in the world, as it had to fight Nazism, Fascism and Tojo's Japanism."

The colonel said the Japanese people's civil liberties are "temporarily protected by the occupation authorities." But he warned they will be endangered unless the Japanese themselves recognize anti-democratic forces.

Third U. P. Contest Grows In Interest

Third United Presbyterian Bible School Has Attendance Sunday Of Over 500

Even though the day was gloomy and there was considerable illness in the community, attendance at the Third U. P. Bible school continued to be beyond the 500 mark last Sunday, when the number was 507.

Interest is running high, and close competition is seen between many of the competing classes. The following classes had 100 per cent in attendance: Alma Lutz's class of Junior girls, True Blue class, Open Door class in the senior young people's department and the W. W. M. G. class in the adult department. Two classes in the school have made consistent and steady gain from the very beginning of the contest, the Truth Seekers class in the adult department and the True Blue class in the senior young people's department.

In the primary department Mrs. Thomas Coultas' class of boys is still in the lead in the cross country airplane race. In the junior department the girls have decided to show the boys that can be good sailors too, for in the Great Lakes cruise they took the lead this week. In the intermediate-junior young people's department Mrs. George Glass reports that Mrs. William Schoenfeld's class of girls is still ahead.

There were 50 in attendance in the junior church, of which Miss Sue Platt was the leader. The percentage in the stay for church campaign was 72.6.

The chart below will show the percentage for March 23 and also the average to date.

Group	Mar. 23 Ave.
Beginners department	33.3 49.2

It is the hope of the attendance superintendent and his committee that a very noticeable increase will be seen in all divisions the last two weeks of the contest, and every effort is being put forth to make his hope a reality.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 26.—(INS)—

If you think the actors have a tough time under the blazing lights of the set, consider the poor dance directors, like Charlie O'Curran.

Charlie has just finished his latest chore, "If You Knew Susie" for RKO, and he feels pretty well finished himself.

"Look at me, I've lost 23 pounds on this picture," Charlie said with a weary smile.

Charlie's one of the hardest working dance directors in Hollywood. He does everything first himself, before asking the stars, this time Eddie Cantor and Joan Davis, to do a thing.

"I'm going home and sleep for a week," he said, "then I'm going to hang around for another week to make certain we don't need any pickup shots. Then I'm going to New York City for three or four weeks, to see my mother and all the new shows."

Joan Bennett has played almost every kind of a screen role except one and she'd like to do that.

"I'd like to play a neurotic character," she said, "I would enjoy that." Joan talked about it to your reporter on the set of "The Secret Behind the Door," being made by her own Diana Productions.

She continued: "I had a minor experience with this type of character 12 years ago, in 'Private World.' I took slight leave of my senses, but it was for only a small portion of the picture."

She gave "The Snake Pit" as an example of what she meant, adding: "Only it happens that Olivia De Havilland is going to do that."

Lynne Roberts was sitting in her dressing room on the set of Republic's "Saddle Pals" talking to Gene Autry when your reporter bobbed in. He barely had time to sit down and say hello when Lynne blurted out:

"I'm god-darned mad that they're making skirts longer because I have pretty legs and I like them to be seen."

Your reporter did a quick double-take and said:

"Lynne, beautiful red-head, quickly added:

"That's what the studio boys told me to say to you. They said, 'You're not going to get in print if you keep talking about your child.'"

"Of course, the only way you can check on what I say is to look at some pictures taken in a bathing suit."

Your reporter didn't have to look. He knows Lynne has a gorgeous figure and pretty legs. He has eyes.

Too Much Secrecy Says Eisenhower

Calls For Less Secrecy On Documents With Exception Of Several Types Including War Plans

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower called for less secrecy about military documents with the exception of several types including "war plans."

The army chief of staff asserted that demands of military convenience and public interest make it imperative that secrecy classifications be removed with increased speed.

The general, in a war department circular, made these exceptions outlined in postwar army regulations: "War plans and plans or particulars of future major or special operations; particulars of important disposition or impending moves of our forces or convoys."

"Very important political documents dealing with such matters as negotiations for alliances and the like; certain new or specialized techniques or methods to be used in future operations."

Eisenhower made it clear that "top secret" still applies to critical information of new and important munitions of war, including scientific and technical developments.

Also to be zealously guarded under orders from Eisenhower is "certain information of the methods used or success obtained by our intelligence and counter intelligence services or information which would imperil secret agents."

His orders called further for continued safeguarding of information that "would be of great advantage to a foreign nation."

"The Breastplate of St. Patrick's," is one of the most original and beautiful of early hymns. Musical difficulties in it keep it from being sung so frequently as it otherwise would be. St. Patrick, surnamed "The Apostle of Ireland," lived from 372 to 468.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLASS INSTALLATION

Members of the Twentieth Century Bible class of the First Presbyterian church and guests gathered in the church dining room for the class's annual tureen dinner and installation of officers Tuesday evening. Table decorations were carried out in St. Patrick's Day colors. Opening invocation was given by Mrs. C. N. Moore.

Entertainment was in charge of Mrs. George Ramsey who presented Mrs. Paul Melvin, who sang two beautiful solo selections, "Kathleen I'll Take You Home" and "Dumplings" with Mrs. Thomas Paden as accompanist.

Irish readings given by Miss Nell Paland and Mrs. C. N. Moore were greatly enjoyed by the group and in turn members and guests told a number of Irish jokes.

"Kathleen Mavourneen" sung by Mrs. Melvin brought the program of entertainment to a close. Devotionals on the theme "Let Your Light So Shine" were conducted by Mrs. Frank Woods. A lovely solo by Mrs. Morgan Jones accompanied at the piano by Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine concluded the worship period.

Vice president Mrs. George E. MacMillan conducted a brief business meeting at which the installation of the following officers took place: president, Mrs. George E. MacMillan; first vice-president, Mrs. W. K. Conover; second vice president, Mrs. Joel McKee; secretary, Mrs. James Ball; assistant secretary, Mrs. George Ramsey; treasurer, Mrs. W. G. Forrester; assistant treasurer, Miss Pearl Dufford; teacher, Mrs. C. N. Moore; assistant teachers, Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser and Mrs. A. B. Street. Hostesses for the dinner were Mrs. Alice McKillop, Mrs. Mont McGill, Mrs. Norman Needler, Mrs. George Harbison, Mrs. J. R. Spear, Miss Dorothy Schaefer, and Mrs. Elizabeth Walker.

Get Welcome Relief From Stomach Gas, Sour Food Taste
Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal? If so, here is how you may rid yourself of this nervous distress. Thousands have found it the way to be well, cheerful and happy again. Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing the flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better. Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Some Cases Against Price Violators To Be Abandoned Now

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—OPA's enforcement chief today revealed plans to abandon most of the agency's cases against violators of price ceilings on commodities no longer under controls.

William E. Remy, deputy commissioner for enforcement, told reporters that cuts in staff and budget will force him to "forgive" 60 per cent of the 13,075 cases the dying agency has pending.

OPA is under orders to close up shop by June 30 and is undergoing a program of accelerated liquidation. By May 1 its staff of 13,000 is scheduled to be cut to 10,900.

Remy said he would like to get congressional approval for the limited amnesty plan. He added, however, that even without that approval many cases will have to be dropped because "with our curtailed staff we can't try to dispose of all of them."

The 60 per cent slash was understood to be offered as a substitute for the general amnesty proposed in the house last week by Reps. Harris (D) Ark. and Dirksen (R) Ill.

Report Milk Being Dumped As Result Of Hi-Jacking In Louisiana Strike

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 26.—(INS)—The FBI was asked today to enter Louisiana's milk strike as armed bands of farmers continued to hijack railroad cars and motor trucks and spill thousands of gallons of milk.

The striking dairy farmers, members of the AFL-teamsters' union, took to armed hi-jacking in an effort to force leading milk distributors to confer with them over a reduction in milk prices.

An estimated 75,000 gallons of milk destined mainly for New Orleans and Baton Rouge, were reported dumped yesterday. The blockade reduced by more than 50 per cent the milk usually coming into New Orleans.

Officials of the Illinois Central railroad charged that an express car on one of its trains had been forced onto a siding by a group of armed men who seized the milk cans and dumped them.

Railroad officials also charged that the same group, estimated at about 250 men, opened another express car and broke the seal on a railway mail car. They said the milk in these cars was en route to Mississippi points.

George Crisler, 70, McComb, Miss., conductor of the train, said he was ordered by armed farmers to sidetrack the milk car. He declared: "I didn't protest, not with pistols staring me in the face."

New Snow Remover Arrives In City

Seventy-five horsepower tractor which has a high-lift and snow-blade has arrived in the city. It was shipped from the Eisele company of Pittsburgh. It will be inspected by City Mechanic Chris Walker before being placed in operation.

It is possible it may be used to help remove snow which can be scooped up by the high-lift and deposited in a truck.

Nationalists In China Advancing

Communist Mountain Stronghold Being Converged Upon By Government Forces

PEIPING, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Three nationalist armies were slowly converging today on the communist mountain strongholds in northern Shensi province.

Simultaneously, powerful red forces were massing in that area to meet an apparently government bid for control of northwest China where the communists have ruled for years.

The central government troops of Gen. Hu Tsung-Nan surged north from their occupation of Yenan, erstwhile communist capital situated in southern Shensi.

Expand Positions
These forces expanded their positions today against a light communist front which was half encircling Yenan at an approximate radius of 50 miles.

The Mohammedan governor of Ninghsia province, Gen. Ma Hung-Kheih, was disclosed to have led his troops across the northwest boundary of Shensi following the brilliant capture Monday of the famous salt pool city of Yenchin.

From the Kalgan area, forces of Gen. Fu Tso-Yi have swung southwest through Shansi province in a drive aimed at the northeast corner of Shensi. Chinese dispatches reported these units approaching Yufu, 40 miles west of Tatum.

Seven Cars Pile Up, Woman Is Injured

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 26.—(INS)—A pile-up of seven automobiles in Pittsburgh during a blinding snow squall today resulted in one woman being hospitalized, police reported.

Mrs. Christine Rocoreto, 37, of suburban Crafton, was taken to Mercy hospital suffering shock, after the tax she was riding was involved in the accident with six other vehicles on icy pavement.

Abandons Auto On P.R.R. Tracks

Police today were trying to establish the ownership of an auto found at 4 p. m. Tuesday abandoned on the railroad tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad at the foot of Croton avenue hill. It bore Pennsylvania license P6601. Police removed the auto to a garage.

CHEWTON

Mrs. C. P. Durbin and daughter, Lillian, were in New Castle Saturday.

State Socialism Charged In Low Cost Housing Bill

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Joseph H. Deckman of the National Home and Property Owners Foundation charged today that the Taft-Ellender-Wagner low cost housing bill was a step toward state socialism.

Deckman said he appeared before the senate banking and currency committee to oppose the measure "because it is primarily a public housing bill." He declared that 90 per cent of the seven billion dollars authorized by the bill was for public housing.

"Public housing is called the key-stone of state socialism because the ownership of the home is the final goal of the advocates of the supreme state."

"To date history proves that all democratic forms of government disappear with the advent of public housing."

Deckman maintained that figures on average rents presented by various witnesses were "false propaganda of the public housers who are attempting to get their hands on more of the taxpayers money to perpetuate themselves in office and in power."

Bluff House Hotel Near Milford Burns

MILFORD, Pa., Mar. 26.—(INS)—Fire of undetermined origin today destroyed Bluff House, one of the best known summer hotels in upper Delaware valley, with a loss of $150,000.

Flames visible for 20 miles swept the three-story frame structure during a wintry gale. The building, unoccupied at the time of the fire, could accommodate 400 guests.

Bluff House, which overlooked the Delaware river, was first built in 1850. M. D. Conry, owner, said painters had been working in the dining room yesterday.

Two Fathers Jailed For Non-Support

ALTOONA, Pa., Mar. 26.—(INS)—Two fathers who failed to pay for the support of their children today were in Blair County Jail because the court "won't stand for loafers imposing on others."

Judge George G. Patterson remanded Joseph Wilkins of Pittsburgh and Joseph De Criscio to jail until they comply with a court order requiring them to pay their children's support.

Both men were former Blair county residents who left the court's jurisdiction.

Judge Patterson declared that "there is no excuse" for a man making a good wage "to expect others to provide a home, food and clothing for his children."

Indictments Will Be Asked In Yacht Explosion Deaths

SANTA ANA, Calif., March 26.—(INS)—First degree murder indictments, backed by the state's claim of a "mass of circumstantial evidence" were slated to be asked of the county grand jury today against Beulah Louise Overell, 17, and George Gollum, 21, for the yacht bomb murders of her wealthy parents.

Spokesmen for the district attorney disclosed last night that "expert testimony that Mr. and Mrs. William E. Overell had been dead one to two hours before their yacht blew up" March 15 in Newport Harbor was ready to be given the grand jury.

Sheriff James Musick said that "a staggering amount of evidence" against the young lovers had been amassed which linked them directly to the deaths of her parents.

He cited as evidence a ballpeen hammer, which authorities asserted might have been used to kill the Overells before the time bomb was set off on the yacht; samples of copper wire and tape found on the boat and in Gollum's car, a dynamite detonator cap and other items.

Give Cab Company Right To Operate Pending Decision

PITTSBURGH, March 26.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania supreme court, in a decision handed down by Chief Justice George W. Maxey in Pittsburgh yesterday, continued in effect indefinitely a supersedeas in the appeal of the G. I. Taxicab Association of Philadelphia.

The action of the court will allow the G. I. cabs in Philadelphia to continue in operation until an opinion is reached on the association's appeal against an injunction granted the public utility commission.

The public utility commission had refused to grant the G. I. Taxicab Association permits, but the cabs had gone on the streets of Philadelphia advertising they would haul passengers free.

The injunction against the group was obtained in Dauphin county court last month, with the supersedeas which allowed them to operate pending the supreme court appeal following.

EAST BROOK F. F. A. NEWS

The East Brook F. F. A. members are busy planning for their annual father-son dinner on Wednesday, April 16. Members of the F. F. A. will speak at the program and Robert Ford, noted wild life photographer, has been engaged to show moving pictures and talk on Pennsylvania wildlife at the dinner. The women of the East Brook F. F. A. will serve the dinner.

During the past week the F. F. A. members have distributed over $150 worth of vegetable seeds that have been treated and germination tested. This the F. F. A. considers, is a community service, as it makes available the latest, best adapted varieties of vegetables that have been treated for seed borne diseases. Past experience shows that customers have been very well satisfied with this seed service.

F. F. A. members are currently growing 200 New Hampshire Red cockerels as broilers. This particular group of broilers are doing exceptionally well. In addition to making a little money the members have the chicks close at hand for class room study.

The class is meeting Monday and Wednesday nights, 8 to 10 o'clock, and all interested in dairying are invited to attend. The class is held in the agricultural room and Mr. Fox, the agriculture teacher at East Brook, is leading the discussions. Feeding is the topic that has been discussed thus far.

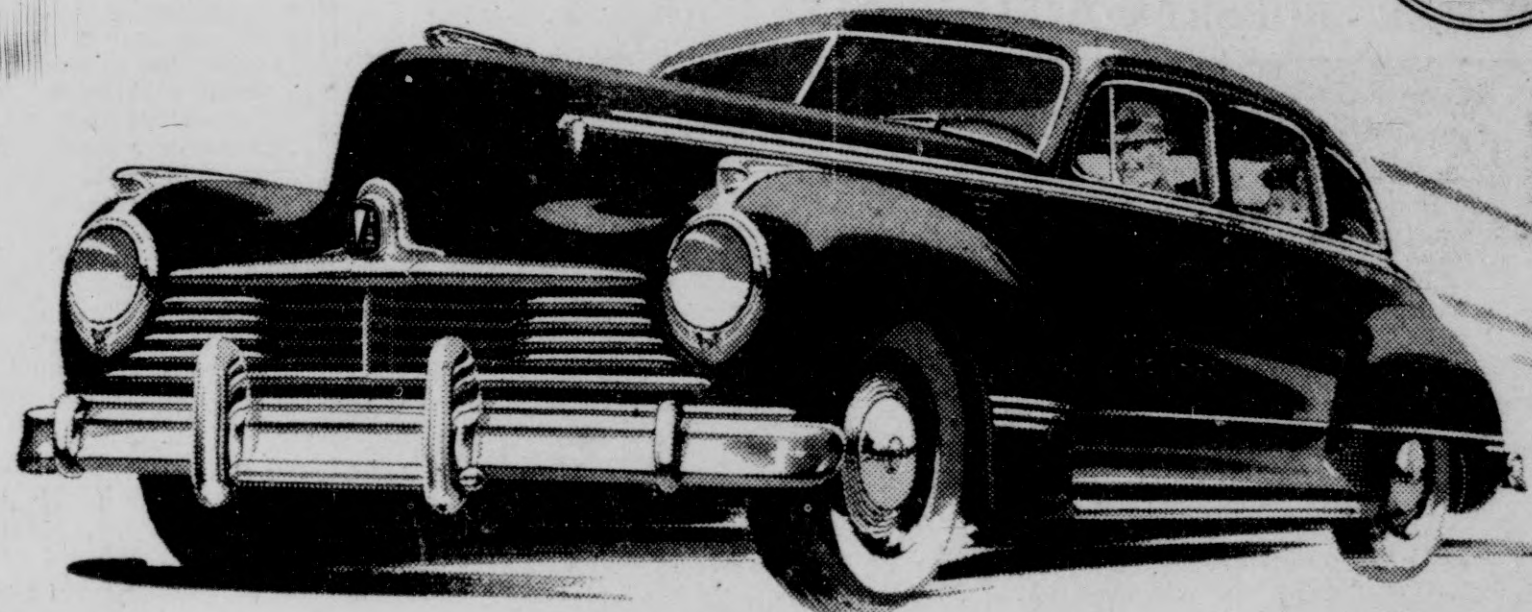

F. F. A. NOTES

Theodore Wallas and Harold McConnell, East Brook delegates to the Butler-Beaver-Lawrence area F. F. A., will attend a meeting in Slippery Rock on Thursday at which time they will select those members from the three counties that are to receive the county farmer degree. Candidates from the East Brook chapter will be Walter Pearl, William Sickafuse, Charles Reiber, Theodore Wallace and Harold McConnell.

East Brook was represented in the recent western Pennsylvania Hampshire bred gilt sale, when Theodore Wallas sold two bred gilts at the New Wilmington sale.

The East Brook chapter is planning to plant 3500 forest seedlings again this spring, probably early in April.

La Guardia Will Be Heard On Aid To Greece Program

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—(INS) Fiorello H. LaGuardia, former mayor of New York, goes before the Senate Foreign Relations committee today to urge handling of aid to Greece and Turkey through the United Nations.

The ex-director of UNRRA told International News Service in advance of the hearing:

"I think there's a way out of this—but it must be done in the proper way."

LaGuardia headed a list of so-called "opposition" witnesses who asked to be heard on President Truman's 400-million dollar program to save Greece and Turkey from the threat of Communism.

Judge A. Marshall Thompson placed Olson under bond with instructions not to annoy his wife.

MAY USE VOTERS' CARDS TO PROVE DRINKERS' AGES

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—(INS)—The house today received a senate-approved measure that would make voters' registration cards sufficient evidence of the age of persons purchasing alcoholic beverages.

The measure, sponsored by Sen.

A. H. Letzler (R) Clearfield, would free liquor license holders from danger of prosecution for serving holders of the cards although their voting ages were doubtful. Voters must be 21 years old.

The measure passed over violent protests of Democrats who claimed it was "very unsound legislation" and would not stop unscrupulous licensees from selling liquor to minors.

U. S. Officials Are Probing Dispute In Bell Deadlock

Industry-Wide Or Individual Company Basis Of Negotiations Is Issue

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Government officials probed the telephone wage dispute today for a solution to the union-management deadlock over whether to bargain on an industry-wide or individual company basis.

The National Federation of Telephone Workers, which has threatened a strike April 7 of 287,000 telephone workers throughout the nation, demanded a national negotiating session with top level officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

NFTW President Joseph A. Beltrac said:

"We are opposed to anything less than system-wide bargaining."

In New York, C. F. Craig, operating vice president of AT&T, was equally firm in rejecting the union's proposal for industry-wide conferences. Craig asserted:

"The place to settle the demands is locally and not by industry-wide bargaining. The contracts are between local unions and companies. Each of the companies has been bargaining cooperatively and continuously."

During the offertory, Miss Bittner will play the "Romance" movement from the second violin concerto by Wienawski.

Miss Isabel T. Johnson, organist of the church, will accompany Miss Bittner.

WOMAN TAKEN SICK CLEANING CHICKENS GETS JOBLESS PAY

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Jobless benefits today were allowed by the state unemployment compensation board of review to a Pittsburgh woman who ended her employment because she became nauseated while cleaning chickens.

The board upheld a referee's ruling allowing benefits to Margaret Shaw, 2529 South 18th street who had been an egg packer at the Christian & Co. plant.

"Having to experience nausea throughout the entire working day is certainly a 'compelling reason' to which the average person would yield after a reasonable trial period," the board said.

passed because Mr. Wallace, whom he has extolled to the skies, sponsors one of these new organizations, and Mrs. Roosevelt, whom he worships, is in the other. In addition, because of the Communist saturation of his own organization, it embarrasses him to join a group which welcomes Communists, as does the PCA, and it embarrasses him to join one that will not permit any Communists to belong—as does the ADA. For that latter principle is one he cannot possibly establish in his own CIO, where many key positions are held by Communists and some of its strongest unions dominate it by them. Perhaps, Mr. Murray may again change his mind because another complication that he has not foreseen may easily arise to plague him.

FOR example, if he is going to insist that the CIO display neutrality (by withdrawing from both) between the two latest groups into which the "modernists" have divided, what will be his position toward the American Labor party and the Liberal party in New York? That was the first split among the radicals and the issue that divided them was practically the same as that upon which PCA and ADA divided. A large group originally in the American Labor party becoming convinced that it was Communist controlled, revolted and formed the Liberal party. The CIO bosses were—and still are—affiliated with both. As a matter of mere consistency, one would think that Mr. Murray would have to apply the same rule to all four of these organizations. If he withdraws himself and his men from the ADA and the PCA, it would seem necessary to withdraw from the ALP and the Liberal party. They are all so nearly identical in purpose and complexion that he cannot decently make fish of one pair and fowl of the other. At least, that is the way it looks to the normal view.

HOWEVER, Mr. Murray has a way all his own of pulling himself out of inconsistent positions and evading the results of contradicting himself. When muddles such as this threaten to exhibit him as a bungling stammerer, he always falls back on his publicity department. If trouble comes—as seems sure—from the silly position into which he has got himself, there will issue from him a stirring statement in which full blame will be placed upon a "monstrous conspiracy" of "greedy employers," supported by a "reactionary press" and manned by those who put "profits above human need." That is the stuff of obscure facts and fool the folks. It has been used with considerable success by CIO bosses for a good many years. They still believe in it. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate) or tormenting him in some other way, or giving him several foods all at once and large helpings. One of the most common errors of mothers is their giving of too much of any food then then trying to force the youngster to eat all of it.

Last summer I was allowed to apply the foregoing technique with a 20-month-old grandson then visiting us. Though he spent his misery into somewhat of an eating problem, he was eating heartily after a few meals, of everything offered him, and he continued to eat heartily during the remaining weeks of his visit. Also he and I had good times at meals.

It really can be very simple, if one can manage one's insides and one's tongue and follow the program to the letter. The hundreds of parents who write me of the misery their youngsters are in, misery with the tot, just don't need to go through such foolish waste of nervous energy in themselves and the child.

New Cooperation In Scientific Research

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard University Observatory, declared Tuesday that international cooperation in scientific research for the good of all peoples may avert future wars.

The noted scientist, a member of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, said he favored establishment of five or six international research institutes, to operate for the good of all nations.

Dr. Shapley, in San Francisco to deliver a lecture, revealed that Russian scientists are superior to the United States "in some fields," including agriculture and the study of higher applied mathematics. He predicted: "We can catch up."

Dismiss Appeal For Execution Stay For Gruner

Britain's Privy Council Refuses Appeal For Member Of Palestine Underground

By THOMAS C. WATSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Mar. 26.—Britain's privy council today dismissed an appeal for a stay of execution for youthful David Gruner, member of the Palestine underground who was condemned to be hanged for an attack on a Holy Land police station.

The plea for clemency was sent to the private council, last court of appeal in Britain, on behalf of Gruner by the latter's uncle.

An official said the privy council appeal lodged by the uncle was dismissed "because there is no legal grounds for the uncle's intervention in the case."

"Ordinarily dismissal of an appeal by the privy council means that the sentence must be carried out. But in this case, since Gruner did not appeal on his own behalf, it is still open to him to do so."

Previously when important persons, including Palestine rabbis interceded with Gruner to make an appeal the condemned man refused to act.

Gruner's sister, Mrs. Helen Friedman, of Lancaster, Pa., flew from America to Palestine to make an appeal on behalf of her brother.

A British official declared meanwhile that it is quite possible the London government will discuss the advisability of increasing the quota of immigrants to be admitted to Palestine.

Measure Would Scale Budget For State Guard Units

Proposed Legislation Would Increase Allotment Per Unit From $750 To $1000

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Legislation to establish a scale of annual operating allowances for Pennsylvania's reorganized National Guard was before the house today.

Endorsed by the PNG, the measure would increase maximum allotments per unit from $750 to $1000, but reduce the minimum sums from $300 to $200 in line with the program established by the federal government which pays the bill.

The maximum rate of $10 each for members was retained under the measure sponsored by Rep. Charles M. Robbins (R) Luzerne, a World War II veteran.

The allowances would be computed by the adjutant general on the basis of actual rather than ultimate strength. The total allocation to a peak strength PNG of 40,000 troops was expected to approximate $20,000,000 a year, according to Adjutant General Frank A. Weber. The state contributes only encampment and home training grounds.

Proposed minimum rates for units were: $10,000, division headquarters; $5000 each, state staff, anti-aircraft artillery brigade and air wing; $2000, regimental headquarters; $1000 each, headquarters of 166th field artillery battalion, FA brigade and corps cavalry reconnaissance, and other battalions; $500, headquarters of anti-aircraft searchlight; $250 each, headquarters of AAA group, anti-aircraft control and warning group and squadron, AA communications squadron, light bombardment group and squadron, engineer aviation battalion and fighter group.

Will Halt Sale Of Stolen Dogs

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's Agriculture department moved today to halt the sale of stolen dogs.

Dr. Charles P. Bishop, animal industry bureau director, sent notices to operators of sales and auctions directing that "an accurate record" be kept of the date on which dogs were received, names and addresses of sellers or purchasers and breed of each dog.

Bishop ordered that license numbers of dogs and "the name and address of agent or person responsible for transporting" the animals for sales purposes be retained.

Dogs over six months of age must have licenses, he added. Dogs imported into the state, except for exhibitions for "a limited period of time", must be examined by veterinarians in the other states before their entry into Pennsylvania. Bishop said.

"Health certificates must be issued by the veterinarians to show the animals were free of infectious or communicable diseases," he explained. Dogs brought into the state without health certificates will be quarantined for 100 days. Bishop said.

St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City is said to be the first and last major church structure in the United States to be built entirely by hand.

Hundreds Keep All Night Vigil At Mine Shaft

Await News Of Fate Of Miners Trapped In Shaft In Illinois

WAMAC, Ill., March 26.—(INS)—Hundreds of persons, who kept an all-night vigil at the Centralia Coal Co. Mine No. 5 in Wamac, remained at the shaft today, awaiting news of the fate of 92 miners still trapped in the pit by an explosion.

They included wives, mothers, sons and daughters of the men unaccounted for. The bodies of 22 men were reported found in the mine last night.

The scene was a quiet one. There was no hysteria. Some persons stood quietly in small groups inside nearby sheds. Others stood outside near the hoisting shaft despite a cold wind that sent the temperature below the freezing mark.

Among them was Mrs. Elzey Uhls of Centralia who said her brother-in-law, Emmet Uhls of Sandoval, Ill., was among the missing. She sobbed quietly and said the missing miner's wife, Martha, was unable to come to the disaster scene because she was ill with influenza.

Illinois highway patrolmen and mine property watchmen were on duty maintaining order.

An announcement over the public address system warned that gas was filtering out of the hoisting shaft, and smoking was prohibited within the mine proper.

The Salvation Army and the Red Cross set up canteens.

Dismiss Appeal For Execution Stay For Gruner

Britain's Privy Council Refuses Appeal For Member Of Palestine Underground

By THOMAS C. WATSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Mar. 26.—Britain's privy council today dismissed an appeal for a stay of execution for youthful David Gruner, member of the Palestine underground who was condemned to be hanged for an attack on a Holy Land police station.

The plea for clemency was sent to the private council, last court of appeal in Britain, on behalf of Gruner by the latter's uncle.

An official said the privy council appeal lodged by the uncle was dismissed "because there is no legal grounds for the uncle's intervention in the case."

"Ordinarily dismissal of an appeal by the privy council means that the sentence must be carried out. But in this case, since Gruner did not appeal on his own behalf, it is still open to him to do so."

Previously when important persons, including Palestine rabbis interceded with Gruner to make an appeal the condemned man refused to act.

Gruner's sister, Mrs. Helen Friedman, of Lancaster, Pa., flew from America to Palestine to make an appeal on behalf of her brother.

A British official declared meanwhile that it is quite possible the London government will discuss the advisability of increasing the quota of immigrants to be admitted to Palestine.

Measure Would Scale Budget For State Guard Units

Proposed Legislation Would Increase Allotment Per Unit From $750 To $1000

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Legislation to establish a scale of annual operating allowances for Pennsylvania's reorganized National Guard was before the house today.

Endorsed by the PNG, the measure would increase maximum allotments per unit from $750 to $1000, but reduce the minimum sums from $300 to $200 in line with the program established by the federal government which pays the bill.

The maximum rate of $10 each for members was retained under the measure sponsored by Rep. Charles M. Robbins (R) Luzerne, a World War II veteran.

The allowances would be computed by the adjutant general on the basis of actual rather than ultimate strength. The total allocation to a peak strength PNG of 40,000 troops was expected to approximate $20,000,000 a year, according to Adjutant General Frank A. Weber. The state contributes only encampment and home training grounds.

Proposed minimum rates for units were: $10,000, division headquarters; $5000 each, state staff, anti-aircraft artillery brigade and air wing; $2000, regimental headquarters; $1000 each, headquarters of 166th field artillery battalion, FA brigade and corps, cavalry reconnaissance, and other battalions; $500, headquarters of anti-aircraft searchlight; $250 each, headquarters of AAA group, anti-aircraft control and warning group and squadron, AA communications squadron, light bombardment group and squadron, engineer aviation battalion and fighter group.

Will Halt Sale Of Stolen Dogs

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's Agriculture department moved today to halt the sale of stolen dogs.

Dr. Charles P. Bishop, animal industry bureau director, sent notices to operators of sales and auctions directing that "an accurate record" be kept of the date on which dogs were received, names and addresses of sellers or purchasers and breed of each dog.

Bishop ordered that license numbers of dogs and "the name and address of agent or person responsible for transporting" the animals for sales purposes be retained.

Dogs over six months of age must have licenses, he added. Dogs imported into the state, except for exhibitions for "a limited period of time", must be examined by veterinarians in the other states before their entry into Pennsylvania, Bishop said.

"Health certificates must be issued by the veterinarians to show the animals were free of infectious or communicable diseases," he explained. Dogs brought into the state without health certificates will be quarantined for 100 days. Bishop said.

St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City is said to be the first and last major church structure in the United States to be built entirely by hand.

Hundreds Keep All Night Vigil At Mine Shaft

Await News Of Fate Of Miners Trapped In Shaft In Illinois

WAMAC, Ill., March 26.—(INS)—Hundreds of persons, who kept an all-night vigil at the Centralia Coal Co. Mine No. 5 in Wamac, remained at the shaft today, awaiting news of the fate of 92 miners still trapped in the pit by an explosion.

They included wives, mothers, sons and daughters of the men unaccounted for. The bodies of 22 men were reported found in the mine last night.

The scene was a quiet one. There was no hysteria. Some persons stood quietly in small groups inside nearby sheds. Others stood outside near the hoisting shaft despite a cold wind that sent the temperature below the freezing mark.

Among them was Mrs. Elzey Uhlis of Centralia who said her brother-in-law, Emmet Uhlis of Sandoval, Ill., was among the missing. She sobbed quietly and said the missing miner's wife, Martha, was unable to come to the disaster scene because she was ill with influenza.

Illinois highway patrolmen and mine property watchmen were on duty maintaining order.

An announcement over the public address system warned that gas was filtering out of the hoisting shaft, and smoking was prohibited within the mine proper.

The Salvation Army and the Red Cross set up canteens.

State-Aided School Building Program Projected In State

Legislation To Authorize Move Is Placed Before State Legislature

HARRISBURG, March 26.—(INS)—Legislation authorizing a state-aided school building program today was before the general assembly.

The measure would establish a $10,000,000 school building fund in the department of public instruction for repairs and construction. It was co-sponsored by Republican Reps. W. Stuart Helm, Armstrong, William R. McMillen, Indiana, and Norman Wood, Lancaster.

McMillen said he hoped the proposal would be adopted as a 10-year program to provide badly-needed school facilities and aid consolidation of rural districts could be initiated. The department would be authorized to pass on building needs and plans under the recommendation.

The measure was supported strongly by the Pennsylvania State School Directors' Association, McMillen said.

"There isn't a fourth class school district that isn't in bad shape so far as building needs are concerned," he declared. "Many other districts also are in dire need of better structures."

McMillen suggested the sales tax advocated in a measure he sponsored be enacted to solve both teachers' demands for salary boosts and physical improvements to schools.

School districts should not be forced to carry much more than maintenance expenses of the entire education program, he added.

Dayton Speaks At Kiwanis Meeting

County Farm Agent Addresses New Wilmington Farmers' Night Gathering

NEW WILMINGTON, March 26.—Problems of the farmer were discussed by Lou Dayton, Lawrence county farm agent, at "Farmers' Night" observed by the Kiwanis club Monday night.

Mr. Dayton condemned the erection of high protective tariff walls stating that the stumping cotton market is a good example of what happens to a "protected" commodity. He stated that farmers have never received a just share of money paid for farm products and that present farm prices are not too high.

Joseph Nomen, director of a mobile X-Ray unit in the Youngstown area, will be the speaker next Monday and will discuss the National Cancer fund drive which the Kiwanians are considering sponsoring.

Officers of the club will confer with Scout Executive Thomas Allen of New Castle, within the next few days concerning scouting here. A drive for scrap paper will be held Monday evening, April 7. Householders are asked to place their paper on the curb at that time.

Steel Scrap Prices Reported Softer

NEW YORK, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Iron Age said today "inflationary tendencies in the steel market this week received a setback when, for the first time since the runaway scrap market began, scrap markets turned soft in some districts."

The national metal working paper added: "Other developments in the current situation which may indicate a slow but orderly return to some sort of normalcy were a softening in the so-called black market or twilight steel prices plus the attainment this week of a new and significant peacetime peak in steel production."

The paper said scrap prices softened at Boston and that there was a slight reduction in the average price in New York and moderate downward trend at Philadelphia.

Tax Legislation Is Expected To Pass In State House Today

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Administration legislation to raise $160,000,000 in taxes on industry and luxuries to finance improvement projects was slated to pass the house today over vigorous protests of minority members.

Republican leaders have shunted aside Democratic demands for passage of bill establishing definite programs before acting to make permanent the four-year-old "merit rating system" governing employers contributions to unemployment compensation fund. It was sent to the house by the senate over objections of the Democratic minority which labeled it "fundamentally unsound."

Rates would be scaled from one to 2.7 per cent for employers, depending in payroll turnovers.

Speaker of the House Franklin H. Lichtenwalter predicted Gov. James H. Duff's revenue-raising bills would the upper chamber despite anticipated stiff opposition of corporations and soft drink bottlers.

Originally, the firm ownership was to have been divided with a third employee, Edwin H. Clarke, but when he died, his share went to Jesteadt and Thompson.

Mrs. Jamison left her jewelry and household belongings to a sister, Mrs. Elsie Ludwig, and $10,000 to purchase tower chimes for St. Luke's Evangelical church in nearby West View.

The estate was valued in excess of $100,000.

Says Greece, Turkey Not In Position For Aid Of World Bank

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—(INS)—John J. McCloy, president of the World Bank, declared today that Greece and Turkey are not yet in a position to be aided by the international lending agency.

McCloy told International News Service: "The bank cannot make Greece and Turkey the kind of loan that President Truman is talking about. That's up to Congress."

"After the people of Greece are out of the bread lines, start production, and have some stability upon which they can operate, then the international bank might be able to help."

"A similar situation exists in regard to Turkey."

McCloy said that before a loan can be granted for reconstruction and development the bank must determine "whether the economic circumstances of the potential borrower warrants the loan and justifies the expectation that the desired results will be achieved."

He said that Greece has informed the bank of her intention to file a formal loan application "at some later date when its plans for reconstruction projects have been completed."

McCloy, who visited many of the 41 member nations of the bank in his previous capacity as assistant secretary of war, declared that many Americans have a mistaken impression about the lending powers of the bank.

MINE HERO DIES SAVING FRIEND

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Mar. 26.—George Mayersky related today how the last act of a fellow miner, who was killed in a 30-ton rock-fall, saved his life.

Mayersky and Hugh Appleton, 60, of Curwensville, were removing pillars of the North American Refractories company coal mine near Glen Richie yesterday.

Suddenly the earth rumbled and Appleton yelled. Mayersky heard the warning in time to jump aside and escape injury. It took 30 miners five hours to dig out Mayersky's crushed body.

Start Tests For Naturalization

Preliminary Examinations Were Held At Lawrence County Court House Tuesday

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Preliminary examinations for naturalization papers were held in the court house on Tuesday, with Naturalization Examiners Ben Ginn and Harry Gould in charge. Eleven applicants presented their papers for their first examination.

Examinations for naturalization are somewhat different now than before the war. Immigrants from such countries as Great Britain, France, Poland, Switzerland and others in the same classification have a fairly easy time of it, but applicants who have been citizens of Germany, Italy, Hungary and Rumania are given more exhaustive examinations including some investigation by the FBI.

The reason of course is that these nations are still listed as alien enemy nations and the United States wants to screen out any applicants who are favorable to Nazism, Communism or any other form of totalitarianism.

TEMPORARY LAWN ADDS BEAUTY TO NEW HOME

Domestic ryegrass will make a very satisfactory temporary lawn if it is sown in well prepared soil in the spring or early summer. Owners of new homes who plan to seed the permanent lawn grasses in the fall, when these grasses grow best, can still enjoy a green surface this summer.

The first step in building a lawn is to use at least six inches of good top soil. Lime, fertilizer and organic matter, such as manure or peat humus, should be added and mixed with the soil. The lawn should then be raked to smooth it to the final grade.

Two pounds of domestic ryegrass per 1,000 square feet, if evenly seeded and covered lightly, will provide a satisfactory lawn for summer use. This grass should be mowed at a height of not less than one and one-half inches until the middle of August. Then the mower should be set to cut as low as possible. About September first, apply the permanent seed mixture, rake the lawn to cover the seed, then roll.

And person wanting more information on building and maintaining lawns may obtain leaflets by asking for them at the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

Program Of Naval Reserve Explained To Lions Members

Attorney Walter A. Kieler, Administrative Officer, Addresses Club At Luncheon Meeting

Attorney Walter A. Kieler, administrative officer of the U. S. Naval Reserve for the five county district, which includes Lawrence, Beaver, Butler, Mercer and Venango counties, was the guest speaker of the New Castle Lions Club, at their luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday noon.

Attorney Kieler, new commander of Neshannock Post, No. 315, V.F.W., stated that the Naval Reserve seeks an enrollment of one million men, and that if enough men are secured in the local district, a Naval Armory will likely be established in the area, similar to those now established at Youngstown and Pittsburgh.

Attorney Kieler was introduced by Chief Quartermaster John P. Burrelli, local Navy Recruiting Officer, who accompanied him.

The annual Tail Twister's ball was announced for Wednesday evening, April 9, at the Field Club, an event which is looked forward with great expectancy by the membership.

Plans for the presentation of "Dear Ruth" a comedy, which will be given to raise funds for the Lions blind fund, were discussed, and tickets were distributed among the membership.

Says Communists Losing In Brazil

U. S. Ambassador Reports To President Truman On Conditions In Brazil

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—(INS)—William D. Pawley, ambassador to Brazil, said Tuesday after a White House conference that communists in Brazil are "losing strength."

Pawley said the communists polled "far fewer" votes in the last election than they did previously. He asserted that the Brazilian communist line, which attacks the "United States and its imperialistic designs on Latin America," is "worn out."

The ambassador declared that President Truman's recent message to congress asking aid for Greece and Turkey "has been the strongest goodwill build-up for the United States in my recollection."

He said: "Brazil stands among the best friends the United States has in the world."

Pawley expressed the hope that President Truman will be able to visit Brazil.

The ambassador who is back in this country for a two or three week stay, said that a visit by the president to the South American country would be "greatly welcomed" by the Brazilian government and the Brazilian people.

In Mexico City recently, President Truman said that he hopes to visit several more Latin American countries during his administration.

Declares 700,000 Federal Employees Should Be Dropped

Ohio Congressman Cites Waste Confusion And Inefficiency By Federal Bureaucracy

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Rep. McGregor (R) Ohio, declared in a house speech Tuesday that 700,000 workers should be removed at once from federal payroll.

McGregor asserted that "the huge, sprawling structure of federal bureaucracy invites and compels waste, confusion and inefficiency."

The Ohioan said that the 80th congress is finding it "increasingly difficult" to establish efficient government because of duplications of effort and overlappings of authority. He added:

"President Truman's recent budget called for two to three times as much money to be spent by each government department in the coming fiscal year as was spent in any pre-war year."

Why Million More? McGregor asked why a million more civilian personnel are required in war agencies now than were needed before Pearl Harbor. He insisted:

"We can reduce by at least 700,000 those on our federal payroll if we start thinking in terms of what the country can afford."

"When a family can no longer afford a maid and gardener, Mama goes into the kitchen and Papa mows the lawn. A government in debt, like a family, has to put into effect the same kind of wisdom."

The economy-minded legislator declared that his proposals would not interfere with an adequate Army, Navy and Air Force and "whatever is absolutely necessary to give us a full and complete program for national defense."

But he pointed out that the increase requested for 1948 over expenditures for 1947 for eight government departments, excluding the Army and Navy, is more than 14 billion dollars.

College Problems Are Presented

WASHINGTON, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Overcrowded college and university campuses threatened today to upset the post-war education program, according to Dr. Paul S. Havens, president of Wilson college at Chambersburg, Pa.

"There is no use deceiving ourselves about what is happening on our college and university campuses," he told Wilson alumnae last night in Washington. "We now have more young men and women in college than we can educate properly with the teaching staff and equipment at our disposal."

He said experience had shown that instructors hired to help alleviate the shortage of teachers usually were "below normal standard in preparation and experience."

Havens warned that unless some young men and women postponed their higher education, college training would decline in standard.

Sees No Block In House Admitting Hawaii As State

WASHINGTON, March 26.—(INS)—Rep. Welch (R) Cal., house public lands committee chairman, said today he sees "no evidence of opposition" in the house to a bill admitting Hawaii as the 49th state.

Welch's committee concluded hearings on the measure last week and is now working on a report. The congressman said the report should be finished before the end of the week. At that time a "rule" will be asked to clear the way for a floor vote "as speedily as possible."

Welch stated: "I have seen no evidences of opposition to the bill in the house. The only problem is to get the bill slated on the house agenda. I don't know when that will be, but we'll get it up in the house for a vote as speedily as possible."

If the bill does not come up in the house next week, action will be deferred until after the seven-day Easter recess beginning April 2. Speaking of the committee report, Welch said: "it's going to be a good report. Our committee was unanimously for the bill." The committee recommendation is expected to emphasize the tacit approval given Hawaiian statehood in military quarters.

Daylight Holdup Nets Yeggs $5000 In Duquesne, Pa.

DUQUESNE, Pa., Mar. 26.—(INS)—A daring pair of bandits which pulled a bold daylight holdup, escaping with $5,010, today continued to elude police in Duquesne.

Police said the pair was the same which robbed a Pittsburgh tavern owner of $1,000 the previous night and escaped in his automobile.

In their latest escapade, the bandits walked boldly into the Joseph Palchak Pharmacy in Duquesne where approximately 50 men were having their pay-checks cashed.

Police said one man held the door open while the other walked past the line of waiting customers and, at gunpoint, ordered Palchak to hand him the money.

The gunman scooped up the $5,010 and ran out the door with his companion. The men escaped in their automobile they had stolen in their earlier holdup, police said and the car was found abandoned last night.

Taft May Give Hint Saturday On His Candidacy

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Senator Robert A. Taft, (R) Ohio, today was expected to give a hint as to his own possible candidacy for the 1948 Republican nomination in a speech in Pittsburgh Saturday night.

The chairman of the senate labor committee and the Republican steering committee will be a speaker at the Civic Center forum, to be held in Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall that evening.

Congressman Robert J. Corbett (R) Pa., also will be a speaker. It was expected Taft also would make a statement on the future of Republican policy before the non-Partisan community organization.

AID TO NATIONS RESOLUTION GIVEN RULES COMMITTEE

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—(INS)—A resolution memorializing congress to give financial aid to Greece and Turkey was before the senate rules committee today.

Introduced by Sen. W. J. Lane (D) Washington, the resolution urged congress to appropriate funds to the two countries in line with President Truman's request.

The resolution stated the two countries currently were "in need of economic and moral support to bolster their political independence and stability against certain threatened foreign encroachments and domination."

WHEN you review "Highlights of the Year," in the chart above, you'll see a sizeable reduction in net earnings. But remembering 1946 as a year of strikes, controls, scarcities and sharp increases in operating costs, you'll find part of the answer.

The main reason, however, was the long delay in obtaining government permission to adjust freight rates to meet the huge rise in wage and material costs.

To continue to meet your transportation needs and provide still finer service in the future, the railroads of America need a chance to earn a "living wage" and fair consideration in all matters dealing with transportation.

TEEN-AGE PROBLEM

"I have been going with a boy for three months. My parents seemed to like him until an aunt said that she does not want me to date him and now my parents agree with her. He is a country boy who has been living in the city for about four years. He has what I call 'polished manners'—really a gentleman. I have told him and although he is hurt he says he will not give me up. I feel sure he does not love me nor do I him, since I am only seventeen. I do enjoy his company but we have never become serious in any way. He is twenty-one. From what I understand I am now to be forced to date other boys whom my aunt and my parents like. What is your opinion?"

Answer: There is no need to become perturbed over your situation. First of all, because you are only seventeen and, luckily, not in love nor even in pseudo-love, which this emotion at seventeen invariably creates.

Secondly, you may have your cake and eat it as well. In other words, you may have this boy, as well as others, since, as you say, he is not in love with you.

Why should you, at seventeen, confine yourself to the companionship of one male to the exclusion of all others? Your aunt may not be right in her dislike of the boy for the reasons stated, but she is unwittingly doing you a service in getting you into circulation.

Going around with one boy exclusively, especially on merely a companionship basis will get you nowhere. For inevitably he will fall in love with someone else and you will be left high and dry to reestablish yourself socially. You will be known as his "girl" and other boys will keep away. By all means continue "dating" this boy as long as you and he are compatible, but share your time with others for at least a year—until you are more mature and your emotions more stable.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Shaughnessy Plans Gridiron Clinic

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Mar. 26.—(INS)—Clark Shaughnessy, the man who made the gridiron's "T" almost a household word, arrived Sunday to complete plans for Atlantic City's first annual football clinic.

The clinic, with Shaughnessy as director, will get under way in the resort's huge convention hall on Tuesday, April 1, continuing through Thursday, April 3rd.

Other members of the staff will arrive March 30. These include Frank Leahy, coach of Notre Dame; Vic Lindskog of the Philadelphia Eagles; Sid Luckman, Chicago Bears' great quarterback; Wilbur Moore of the Washington Redskins, and Joe Stydahar of the Chicago Bears.

Managers Will Get Contracts

City Baseball League Has Important Meeting Called For Thursday Evening

Old Man Winter is doing his best to discourage the baseball "bugs" but nonetheless the city baseball league managers and officials will have an important Thursday evening meeting at Carn's at 7:30 o'clock.

It looks as if baseball season is a long ways off today with plenty of snow and ice but it is only two months away for the city league, with the big leagues carded to open April 15.

Contracts Ready

Contract blanks have been secured from the printer, and will be given to the managers Thursday. Also score-pads and rule books have been secured and will be available to the managers at a small cost.

All 16 teams have their $50.00 franchise money in Secretary Michael Babovsky's hands and a schedule can be drawn up as soon as all teams have satisfied the league as to a playing field. It is hoped that all managers will know by Thursday or have a good idea where they will play this year.

Interest Terrific

Never in New Castle's history has baseball taken such a hold. There will be over 500 young men playing ball in the league here this summer.

The Johnson-Bronze employees will have a representative at the meeting Thursday to explain their projected beautiful baseball stadium, and to invite the league to participate in the playing of several games at the new field located in the Croton district, off of North Cascade street.

Chandler B. McMillan, principal of Bessemer high school, has forwarded the Tri-County selections, based on the performance of 44 players of eight high schools at the George Washington floor March 6-7-8.

Only unanimous choice of the judges was Don Mayberry, tall Shannango high center, who led his team to a repeat championship in the tournament. Lanky Don got the nod of all six selectors, and finished as high point man in the games with a total of 46, eight points better than Glass of Bessemer who caged 38.

A communication was read from the national organization urging the support of a team to aid in the building of young manhood.

It is estimated that about $500 would be needed to equip and field a representative team. Various organizations and individuals will be asked to aid in the drive for funds. President Howard Rodgers appointed a committee composed of William Gilliland, Robert Engelson, Walter Whitman and W. Baumgartner to study the baseball question. The Legionnaires also discussed the possibility of a Legion home.

P. "Bugs" Walther as special guests. Tropea will be on hand to greet all players and welcome them.

The Columbus Club is making plans to field a championship team this summer, according to Manager Tropea. All of the 1946 players and any others who want to play on the Columbus team this summer are asked to attend the meeting tonight. The matter of a playing field will be up for discussion. The Columbus Club is making elaborate plans for a fine baseball site this year.

The Columbus Club is also sponsoring a junior team in the Legion League and all of these young players are asked to attend the meeting tonight.

Nelson Potter Tames Pirates

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Mar. 26.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates were scheduled to meet Toronto of the International league today, following a 6-5 beating at the hands of the St. Louis Browns across the bay in Miami.

Ralph Kiner collected the Pirates only two hits of the day against the Browns, slapping a triple and a single and driving in four runs.

The deceptive side-arm delivery of the Browns' Nelson Potter held the Pirates hitless for five innings and allowed only one man to reach first base on a walk.

Expect 'Heavies' To Slug Monday

Elisco Battles Santaforte And Brothers Stacks Up Against Ronzi

Heavyweight scraps are either good or bad. Max Baer proved this when he quit on a knee to Joe Louis, likewise when Billy Conn retreated before the Detroit Bomber, but speaking of Monday night's encounters in the Arena, a pair of bouts in which action is promised, contains Elkins Brothers vs. Rizieri Ronzi and Guy Elisco vs. Sam Santaforte.

Weighing 185 each, Ronzi and Brothers are expected to be speedier than Elisco and Santaforte, both of whom tower around two cwt. The latter are squat, like to stand and slug, while Ronzi moves around the ring. If Elkins can keep step and punch with him, a good scrap is in the offing.

Fans Like Teth

Although there is an old saying that "there's no place in the ring for a clown", the fact remains that the fans here like Johnny Teth, burlesque-boxer of Allquippa who is carded to battle Charlie Pastovitch of Youngstown. If Johnny can be-fuddle Charlie he should win. If not, he may be due for a lacing.

Chuck Gibbons of Ellwood City, who some say could be mistaken for Billy Conn, if he was larger, is matched with Billy Mategall, of Youngstown.

There are other bouts on the card which will be topped by what looks like a mighty fine scrap between Julius West of Youngstown and Tony Zanish of Sharon.

Eight bouts will be staged by the Jefferson Athletic club for the New Castle Boaters who hope to raise some money for war memorial purposes.

who hasn't the first notion as to what rough, hard-hitting American slugging was all about and not much more knowledge of the English boxing system.

The latter calls for a man to stand up straight with his head high like a pheasant in a corn field until he gets knocked down. Woodcock did both.

Bakshi Is Thumper
Bakshi, an earnest thumper out of Kulpmont, Pa., can take punishment pretty good and hits well to the body. But Lee Savold, who once interrupted his pugilistic career to become a bartender and a 280-pound walrus-like character, outpointed Bakshi so badly that it wasn't even funny. Yet it was funny. When Savold feinted Bakshi nearly fell out of the ring several times.

All of which is not any funnier than this match which they have just made, saddling the blame on the champion.

Holy Cross Wins From Oklahoma To Grab NCAA Title

NEW YORK, Mar. 26.—(INS)—Eastern basketball, a crumbling citadel during the renaissance that produced the modern, fast-breaking game, faced the world with restored prestige today, thanks to Holy Cross college and its inspired "team of destiny."

The Crusaders brought the 1947 N.C.A.A. championship to the eastern seaboard for the first time with a dramatic 58-47 win over the Oklahoma Sooners in the final round last night. They hadn't been touted to win. They, in fact, hadn't even been expected to reach the final round.

Neither Will Do
It is my firm conviction that both Woodcock and Bakshi, armed with crow bars and at the height of their current sterling young manhood, could not beat Louis wearing manacles, and big training gloves at the age of 90.

Woodcock's main recommendation for this match is his record of having been knocked out only once. This, however, was accomplished by our most notorious in-and-outter, Tami Mauriello, who went one round with Louis last September.

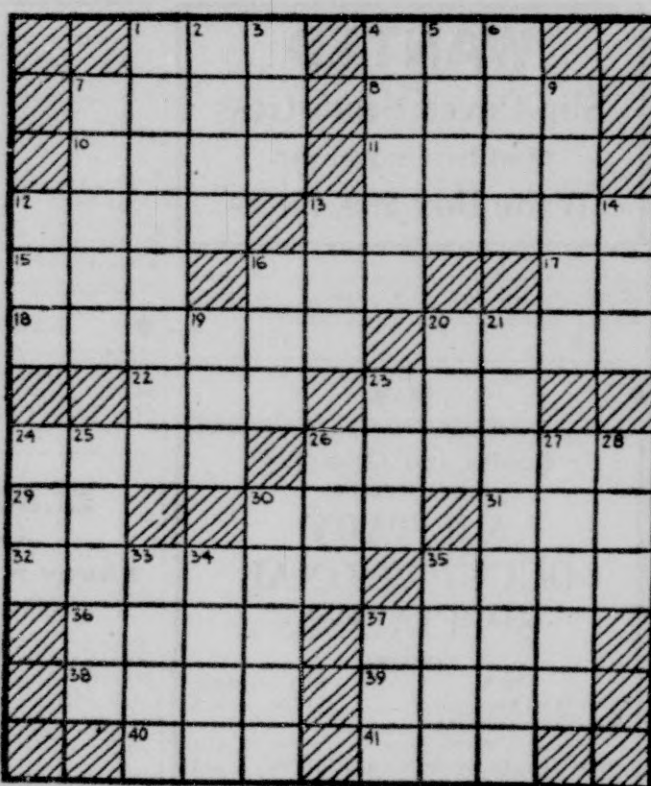

Bakshi won four straight starts last year, and has not boxed in 1947. His four straight were against Joe Round Heels mainly in 1945 he lost to such notable gladiators as Lee Oma, Jersey Joe Walcott and Jimmy Bell.

In saddling Louis with the responsibility for picking his next opponent, it appears to me that his current manager, Marshall Miles, and the 20th Century Sporting club suspect the likelihood of a killing and want no part of the blame.

A.A.U. Reconciles With Colleges On Basketball Rules

NEW YORK, Mar. 26.—(INS)—A.A.U. and college basketball had affected something of a reconciliation today as the National Rules committee went into the final phases of its annual meeting.

One of its early accomplishments yesterday was the agreement by which the A.A.U. decided to embrace the collegiate rules of play in 1948, with a number of foreign countries scheduled to use the same code, beginning with the "Olympic year."

In line with the spirit of peace and good will, the A.A.U. accepted an invitation to rejoin the rules committee from which it had broken away several years ago. Its representative at the current rule sessions is A.A.U. Basketball Chairman Lou Wilke, Bartlesville, Okla.

Thus far, prospective rule changes have been discussed, with no definite action being taken.

Japan Battling For Comeback Of Basic Industry

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Mar. 26.—The Japanese textile industry is fighting everything from the food shortage in Japan to the popularity of nylons in America in its efforts to get back on its feet.

In between there are dozens of other problems, such as broken spindles, a lack of trained workers, a shortage of wool, a shortage of power and a shortage of money.

Textiles are the basic industry of Japan. Silk, for instance, is the only Japanese industry which can produce exportable commodities without importing raw materials, or, in other words, the only industry which is able to bring a clean profit to Japan.

Cotton Important

Cotton is equally important, through volume, although Japan must import her raw cotton and the Japanese cotton textile mills have to worry about cheap labor competition in China and India, a trouble from which the silk industry is free.

Before the war Japanese textile men were moving factories to Manchuria and China to take advantage of cheap labor and easier access to big oriental markets. Since surrender, Japanese textile leaders have been worried that other industries will take advantage of that cheap labor supply in China, as well as India, to cut into the business of the Japanese cotton mills.

The importance of the textile field to Japanese industry can be most easily illustrated through employment figures. In 1930 there were 3,800,000 Japanese employed in industry, of whom 1,500,000 worked in textiles. The ratio in 1940 was 1,700,000 of 7,000,000.

Pin Hopes On Textiles

Today, despite tremendous difficulties in the industry, Japanese industrial leaders are pinning all their hopes of recovery on textiles. All other fields of industry are considered to be in a supporting role. That is because textiles provide Japan with her most readily exportable item, and Japan must have exports to build up credits with which to buy food and the raw materials needed for other industries.

The importance Japanese attach to textiles is shown by the efforts they have put into the field, even though many textile men are losing money. U. S. Col. H. S. Tate, former Clemson university textile expert now heading Gen. Douglas MacArthur's textile division, said that by June or July of this year the Japanese textile industry will have repaid the United States $135,000,000 in credits advanced to pump raw cotton into Japanese mills.

Japanese know they must maintain their credit or watch their most important industry wither and die.

BOUNTY ON FOXES

HARRISBURG, Mar. 26.—(INS)—The Senate today received a House approved bill providing for mandatory four dollar bounties on foxes.

Passage of the measure who protested violently by Rep. James D. Cole (D) Greene, who claimed new bounties would encourage hunters.

Greene county sportsmen were chiefly interested in bagging red foxes and would not object so much to bounties on the black varieties, he added.

Farmers, threatened with hoards of bounty seekers, would be forced to close their land to all hunters, Cole warned.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Edna Kehoe, 33, whom police said was killed instantly when she was shot in the head, and her son, Patrick, who was seriously wounded by bullets in the neck and ear.

"We need to raise more money, particularly for teachers' salaries, and maybe the horses can do it," he said.
